Colossians 3:15-17

Introduction

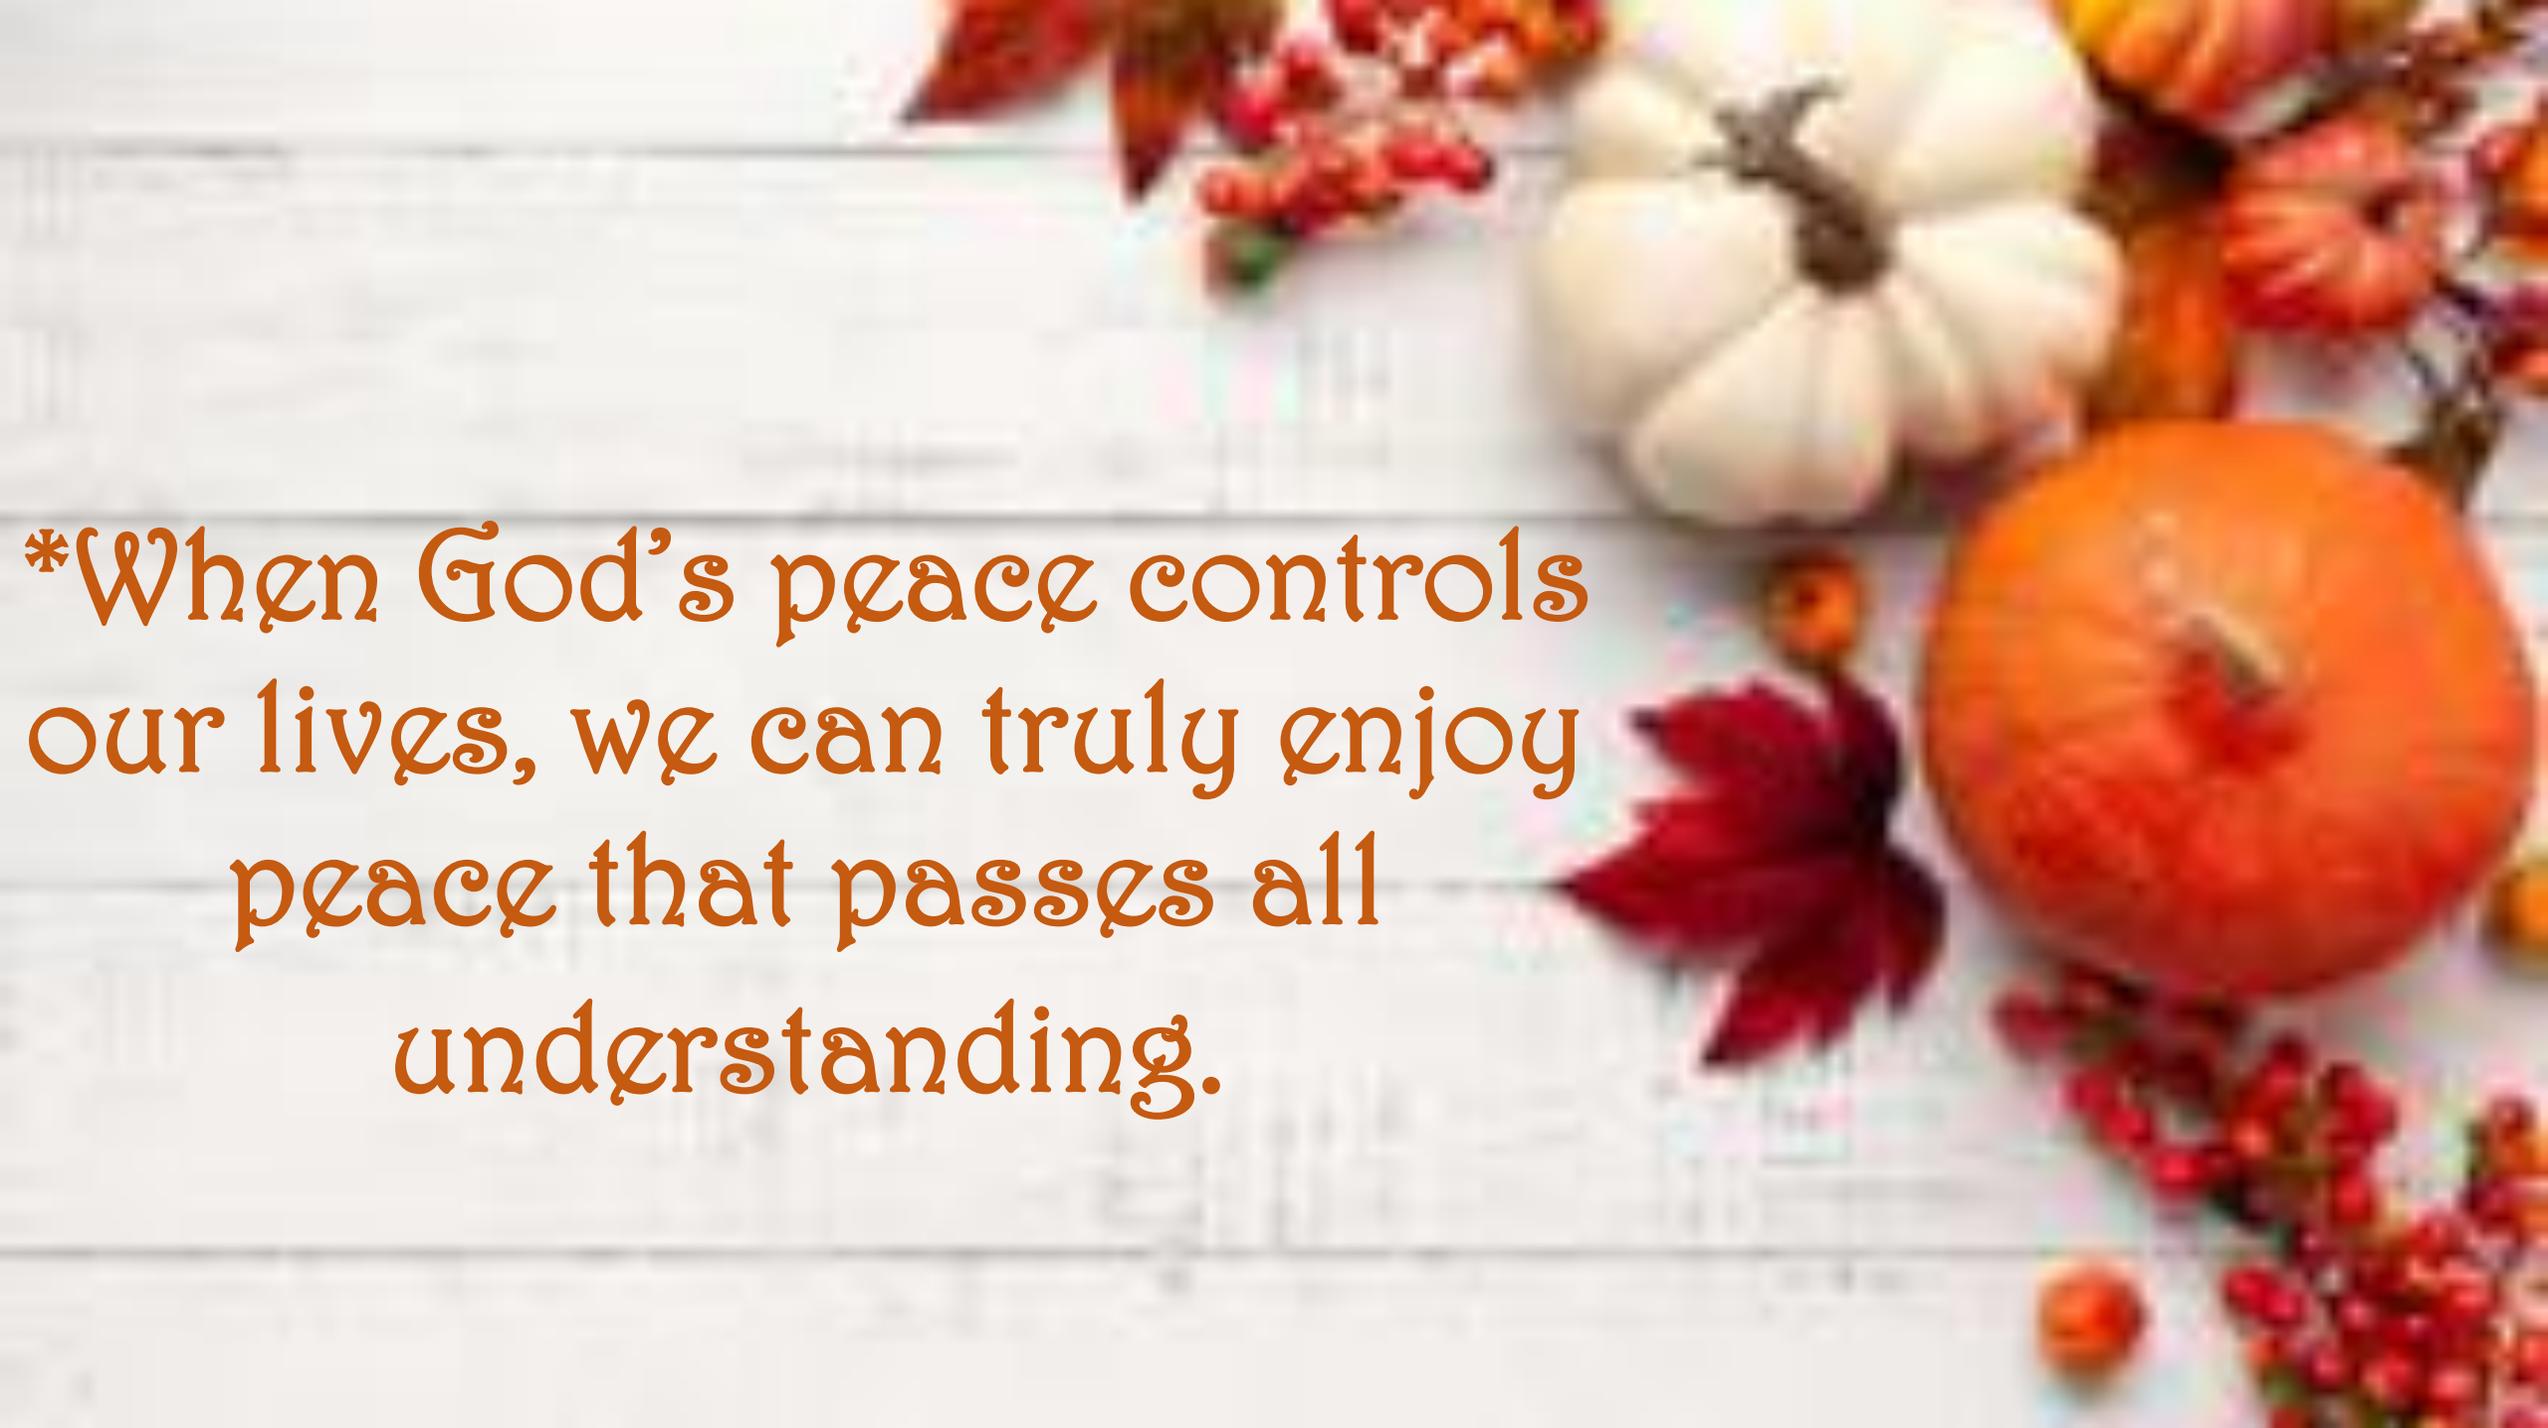

I. The Comfort of the Believer (v.15)

A. Our Peace

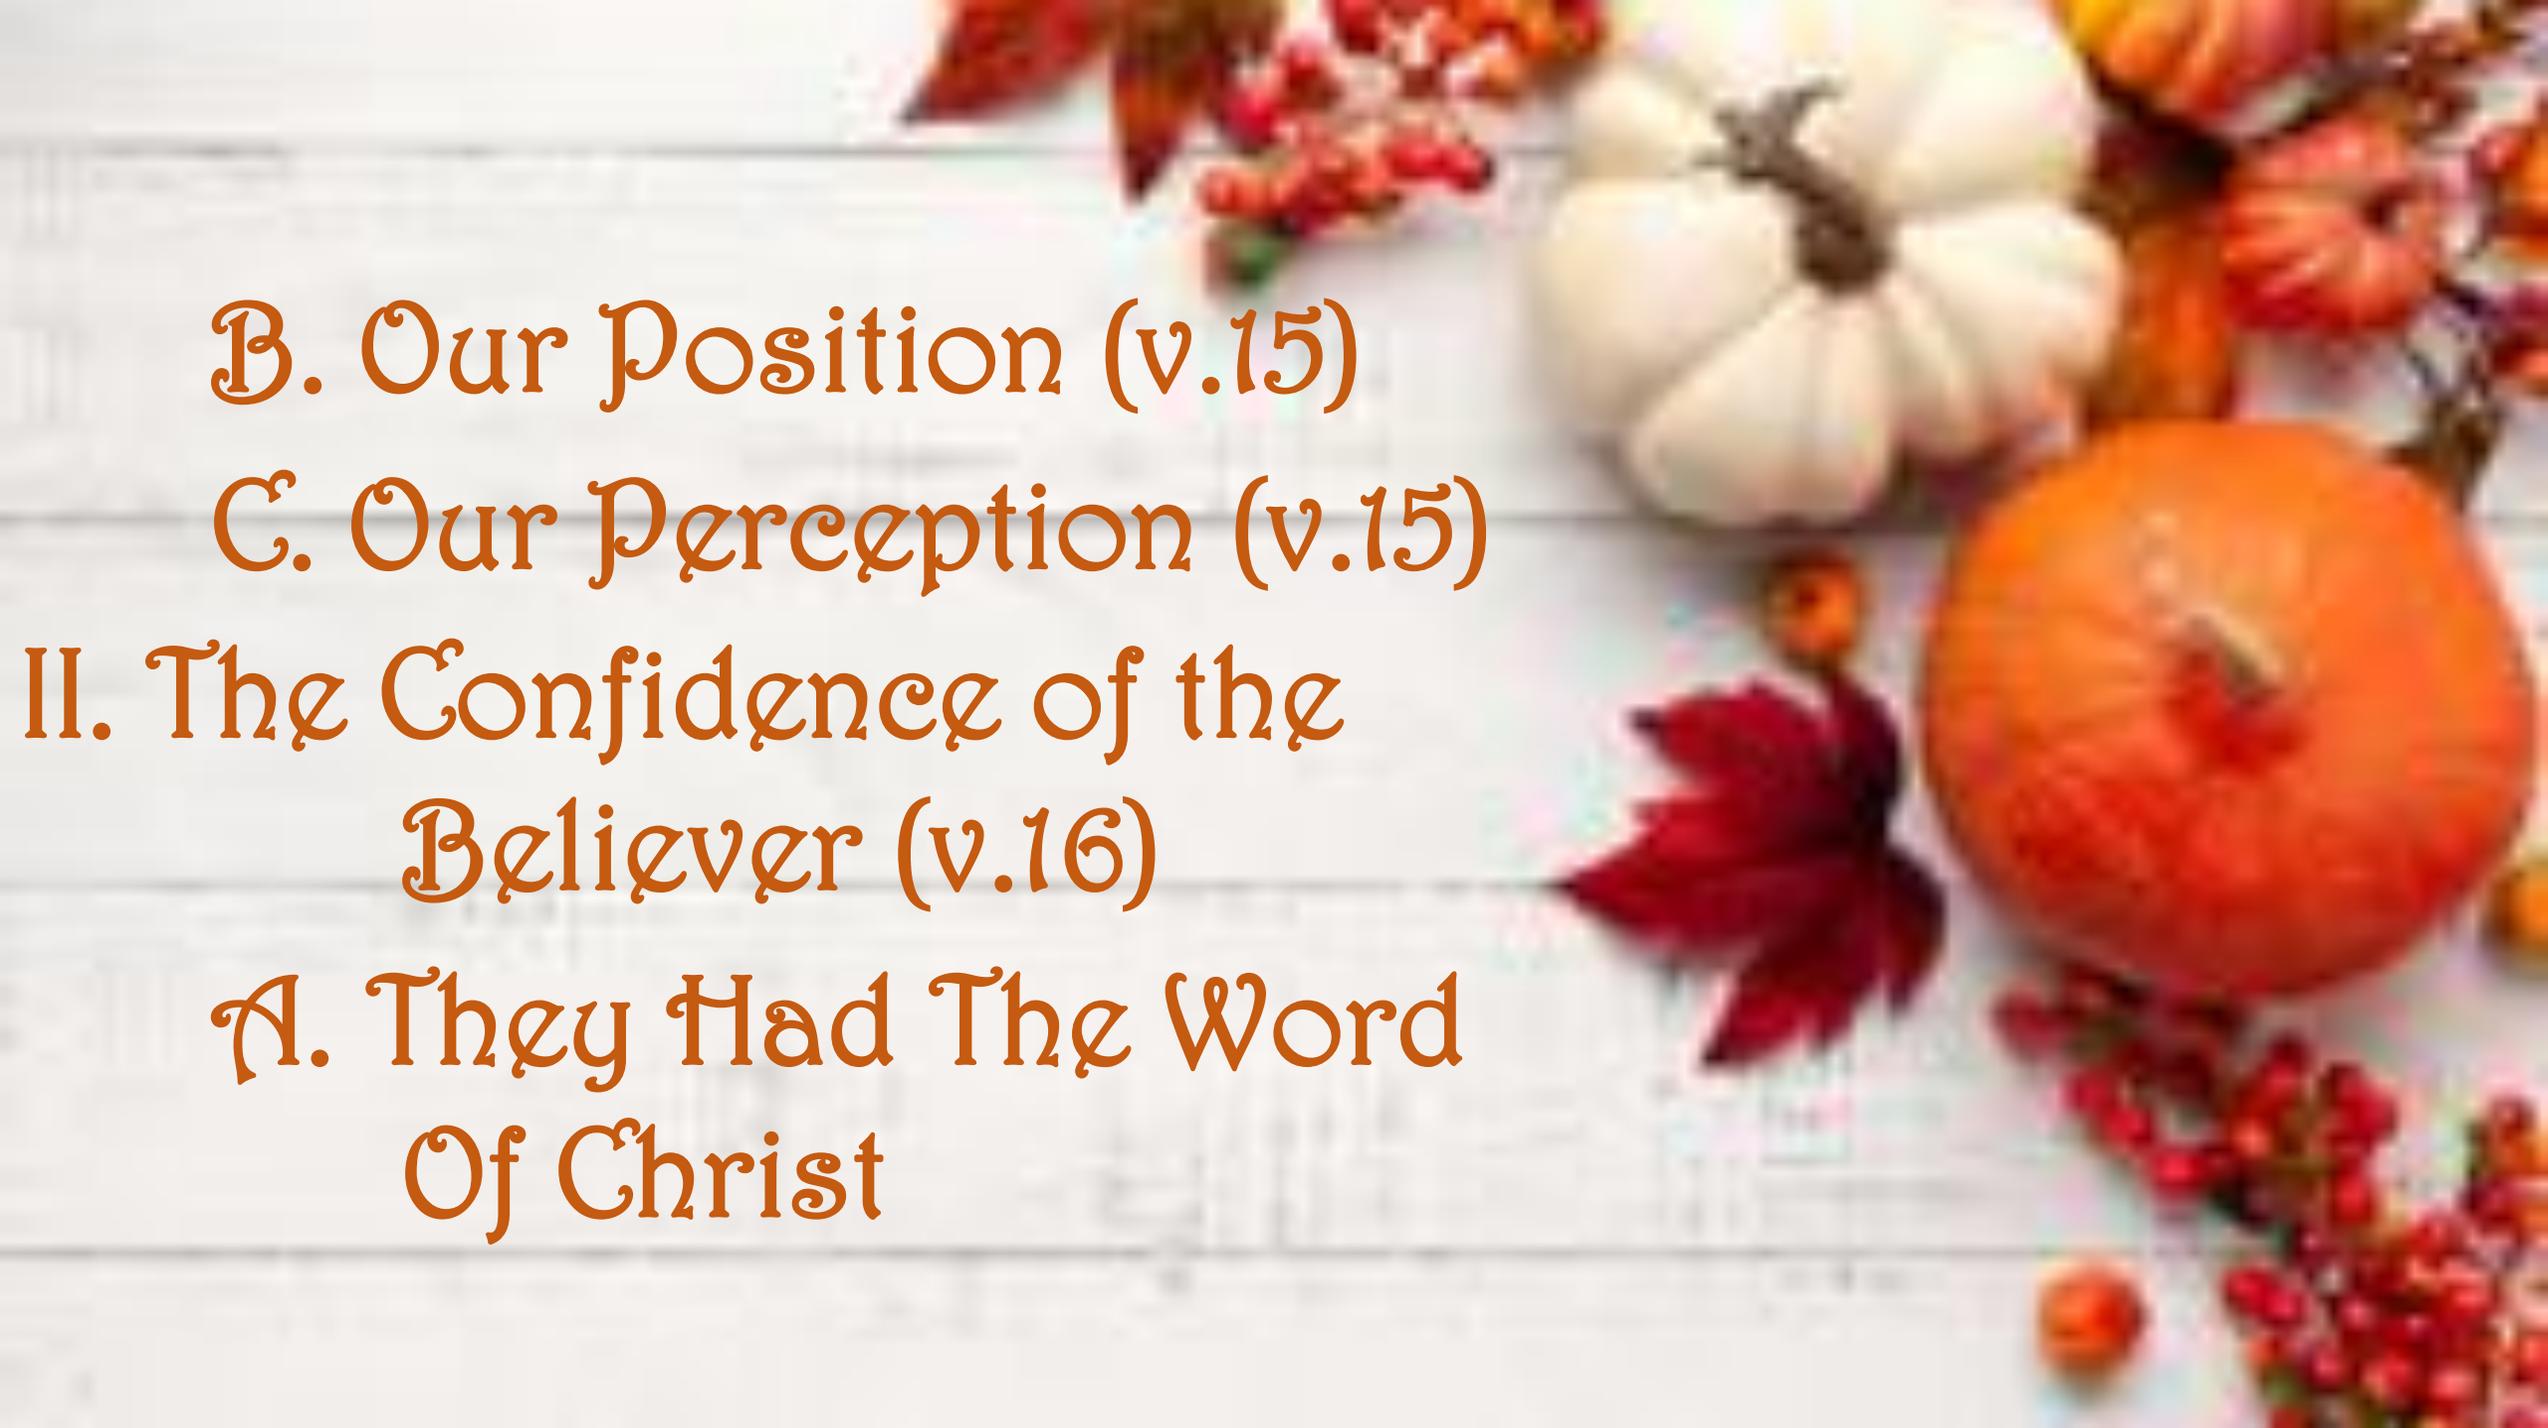

The background features a collection of autumn-themed items on a light-colored wooden surface. There are several pumpkins, including a large orange one in the foreground and smaller white and orange ones in the background. Interspersed among the pumpkins are various autumn leaves in shades of red, orange, and brown, along with clusters of small red berries. The overall scene is warm and festive.

When we were saved, we experienced peace with God.*

As we live and walk in fellowship with Christ, we enjoy the peace of God.

A decorative autumn-themed background featuring pumpkins, leaves, and berries. The scene is set on a light-colored wooden plank surface. In the upper right, there are several pumpkins, including a large orange one and a smaller white one. Scattered around are vibrant red and orange leaves and clusters of small red berries. The overall atmosphere is warm and seasonal.

*When God's peace controls our lives, we can truly enjoy peace that passes all understanding.

The background of the slide is a soft-focus photograph of autumn-themed items. It features several pumpkins in shades of white, cream, and orange, scattered with vibrant red and orange leaves and clusters of small red berries. The items are arranged on a light-colored, horizontally-slatted wooden surface.
